Vladimir Marko

(Beograd, 1961)

Diplomirao filozofiju u Beogradu. Doktorirao na Filozofskom fakultetu Univerzitetu Komenskog u Bratislavi (Slovačka), gde je i zaposlen na Katedri za Logiku i metodologiju nauka. Bavi se savremenim formalnim interpretacijama antičkih logika i filozofijom nauke. Zajedno sa Srđanom Spasojevićem bio je autor Talk show "Braće Butkaj" emitovanom na novosadskom Radiju 021 (2000-2002) što ih je svrstalo u umetnike koji su, kao i HTP i MF, stvarali svojevrsan vid gradske duhovnosti i duhovitosti. Učestvovao u različitim muzičkim i umetničkim, kako individualnim tako i kolektivnim, projektima vezanim pre svega za urbanu marginu. Uglavnom se kloni institucionalnog predstavljanja a svoju trenutnu umetničku produkciju najrađe sagledava u okvirima bliskim Outsider Art-u.

Studied philosophy in Belgrade. Received his Ph.D. from the Philosophy School of the Komensky University in Bratislava, Slovakia, where he works in the Department of Logic and Methodology of Sciences. His practice engages in modern formal interpretations of ancient logic and philosophy of science. From 2000 to 2001 he co-authored with Srđan Spasojević the Braća Butkaj talk show aired on the Novi Sad Radio 021. This show put them among artists like the HTP and the MF who have created a certain kind of urban spirituality and wit. He was part of various solo and collective music and art projects focusing primarily on the urban margin. Tends to stay away from the institutional presentation. Likes to view his current artistic production mostly as the Outsider Art.
